

Module 2 Final Assessment: Argument Analysis Formal Response (1-2)

Introduction

All students will be provided materials that mimic the Part A section of the AP Exam, including general directions and stimulus materials. At this time, students will only answer questions 1-2. Question 3 is explored in Module 3 after students learn techniques for argument evaluation.

For timing's sake, students may be provided the materials in physical form so that they may read and annotate during the time allotted for answering the questions. Teachers may also choose to use digital tools for annotation and administration where available.

Students engage the text by identifying features of the argument and may choose to use argument mapping techniques in preparation for their written response. The College Board suggests that Part A of the AP Seminar Exam takes around 30 minutes.
