

Checkpoint 11: Oral Defense Preparation

What to Do

At this point in the process, team members have regularly spent time collaborating and discussing their contributions. They have done formal peer-reviewing activities within their team that establishes easy answers to the oral defense questions provided by the College Board. To complete the preparation process of Task 1, each student will submit a reflection on their collaboration by answering the following required questions (Student A is the reflector, and they should consider all other team members for Student B):

1. Describe how the content of the team presentation was changed because of team discussion.
2. Student A, how did the team decide to include Student B's perspective/lens/conclusions in the overall presentation?
3. Student A, give one specific way that your thinking changed because of learning about Student B's individual findings.
4. In the future, what change would you make to your team norms, and how would you expect that to improve the team presentation?
5. Reflecting on your colleagues' work, which one had the greatest impact on your overall understanding of the problem your team identified?
6. In what way did you improve your ability to work with a team because of this project?
7. What is an example of a compelling argument from one of your peer's individual reports that you decided to exclude from your team presentation, and why?
8. What is a way in which your team's resolution makes you think differently about your individual research?
9. What was the strongest counterargument to the solution or conclusion your team identified, and why?
10. Describe an argument from one of your peer's individual reports that made you think differently about your team's solution or conclusion.
11. Having finished your project, what, if anything, do you consider to be a gap in your team's solution?
